

SOCIAL CONTRIBUTION QUALITY POLICY

Istinye University has adopted the principle of making social benefit a priority by taking the short and long-term effects of its research, education, and managerial activities into account. For this, with activities on a local, national and global scale;

To instill social responsibility and ethical awareness in its students and graduates during educational, research-innovation and technology production activities, and raising awareness to produce ideas and projects that benefit society,

To establish cooperation and partnerships with the public, non-governmental organizations and industry, especially local stakeholders, and to improve the work done in this context,

To organize lifelong learning activities and training programs for external stakeholders to promote lifelong learning and to make the necessary efforts to realize their goals of providing support to community development,

To encourage the production of civic involvement projects including university students and cooperating with the internal and external stakeholders to carry out works for disadvantaged groups.
